The ONLY meeting dedicated solely to the development of pharmacy preceptors and residency directors

August 11–13, 2016  | Washington Hilton Hotel | Washington, DC
Don't Miss These Hot Topics!

The training of students and residents, both as future pharmacy leaders and trainers of the next generation of pharmacists, is a vital part of ASHP’s mission to help people make the best use of medications. The National Pharmacy Preceptors Conference is the only conference dedicated to the development of all practitioners involved in pharmacy precepting. This conference provides over 30 educational sessions with instruction on a variety of topics to enhance the trainee education and practice experience, increase skills in developing preceptors, and provide guidance in complying with standards used in postgraduate pharmacy residency training.

- Techniques to Develop Clinical Reasoning Skills
- Student and Resident Research
- Meeting Preceptor Development Standards
- Individualizing Your Rotation for Different Learners
- Creating a Growth Mindset
- Teaching Certificates
- Tracking Progress Toward Outcome-Based Graduation Requirements
- Structuring Your Rotations
- Pass/No Pass Grading Systems

This year the conference is being held at the Washington Hilton hotel, centrally located in the heart of DC near Dupont Circle and Embassy Row. From the Washington Hilton, you’ll enjoy easy access to the city’s most popular attractions while staying in one of DC’s coolest neighborhoods. Walk outside the hotel doors to plenty of restaurants and entertainment or unwind by the outdoor firepits. For more information, visit the NPPC website www.ashp.org/nppc.
MORE Networking. More Knowledge.

This year we have added more structured networking opportunities for you to connect, exchange ideas, and problem solve on your most important training and precepting issues. Our updated and focused networking opportunities include Managed Care programs, Small Community Hospital residency programs, Community Residency programs, leadership development, and Veterans Affairs networking. Forum. Collaborate with some of the greatest minds in precepting, and make connections that will impact your practice.

Develop Skills through Education.

Throughout the conference, you’ll learn to implement ideas to expand your program, improve teaching and learning, enhance personal productivity, assess student and resident performance, and sharpen professionalism. As you attend sessions and network with colleagues, you’ll open your mind to innovative solutions. The NPPC will prepare you for dynamic achievement and a more rewarding career. Attendees can also earn up to 13.5 hours of CE.

Conference Highlights include:

- 13.5 hours CE
- New PGY2 standards
- NEW! Residency Program Design and Conduct (RPDC) workshops
- Preceptor Pearls
- Networking dinners
- Posters

Keynote Speaker Colette Carlson delivers the latest research letting the facts support the fun. She engages an audience with her energetic style, inspirational anecdotes and quick sense of humor.
Pre-Conference Workshops

Residency Program Design and Conduct (RPDC)

Thursday, August 11
8:00 a.m. – 5:00 p.m.

Our newly redesigned RPDC workshops are customized for the various stages of a residency program. These “hands-on” workshops provide an intensive, in-depth review of residency tools, guidelines, and best practices for new programs, existing programs, and community practice programs. This will be your opportunity to get first-hand and detailed information on the NEW PGY2 ACCREDITATION STANDARDS!

Each workshop will review accreditation standards for the design and conduct of a residency program, including: requirements related to program purpose, competency areas, goals and objectives, program structure, learning experiences, orientation, use of preceptor roles, evaluation, resident development plans, and continuous residency program improvement. Participants may bring materials from their program for review during the workshop.

2016 RPDC Workshops are offered for:
- PGY1 New Programs
- PGY1 Existing Programs
- PGY1 Community-Based Programs
- PGY2 New and Existing Programs

Where Leaders are Made

Beyond national treasures and historic buildings, Washington, DC, is abuzz with lively entertainment, great restaurants, and rich culture. DC is also a convenient destination, served by three major airports, major highways, and trains. The Metro subway system is clean and easy to use. Many of the popular attractions are clustered along the National Mall, a long green park that runs through the center of Washington, so it’s easy to walk around and capture the spirit of the city.

Excellence in Training Residency Award

The National Pharmacy Preceptors Conference welcomes 2015 Preceptor Award recipient Stephen Eckel, Pharm.D., M.H.A., BCPS. The ASHP Foundation’s Pharmacy Residency Excellence Awards program recognizes excellence and leadership in the training and mentoring of pharmacy residents, training that is crucial to the development of future leaders and to raising the level of practice. This award honors leading programs and mentors who are forerunners in excellence, leadership, innovation and training in the United States.
RICHARD PERRY POWER HOURS

As pharmacists, with our long work hours and multiple responsibilities, we often lose track of our own health and wellness, both physical and mental. Participants in this session will learn how to incorporate healthy activities into their daily schedules. Activities in this session will include hands-on exercises, focusing in flexibility, mobility, muscle relaxation, posture improvement and strength. Methods for developing personalized goals and measuring progress will be discussed. Plan to work on key activities to improve your health and wellness in both the short and long term with Richard Perry, pharmacist and personal fitness coach.

Welcome Reception and Poster Session

Begin the conference with an enriching evening of networking and refreshments. The Poster Welcome Reception provides an excellent platform for colleagues to showcase innovative and unique precepting projects.
